FEEDING DIRECTIONS

Offer Buckeye® Pigeon Feed to pigeons at a level so that the feed will be consumed. Discard what remains on a daily basis. Keep feed fresh and maintain birds in a sanitary environment in order to reduce the susceptibility to disease. Maintain a supply of oyster shells for the birds as a source of calcium. This is extremely important for growing birds and for hens, which are producing eggs in order to maintain eggshell quality. Birds will normally consume oyster shells to meet all their nutritional requirements for calcium. Grit should be available to aid in the grinding of the seeds in the bird's gizzard and as an aid in food digestion. Clean, fresh water should be available to the birds at all times.

When hens are feeding young, Buckeye® Big 4 pellets should constitute approximately 1/3 of the pigeon's feed mix during this period. For young growing pigeons, "Big 4" should constitute between 20 and 30% of their diet to supply the protein, minerals, and vitamins necessary for their rapid growth during the first 5 months of life.
